Ihsu Yoon was born in Korea in 1982

May 11, 2010 - 18:51

He acquired his Bachelor Degree of Engineering in Architectural Design at the Seoul National University of Technology in 2007, and his Master of Fine Art Degree in Computer Arts in the School of Visual Arts in 2010. He has 6 years experience as professional in architectural visualization, and gives lectures in private institutes and universities for students who study 3D design applied to architecture. He won several architectural competitions as well.

On the other hand, he produced this short film for his thesis project in the School of Visual Arts for 5 months, and started to work --without a storyboard-- with the Bible passage "John 8:12" symbolizing each character to emphasize the message. An abstract animation was created as result.

Ihsu Yoon thinks that his art is not only for the people who is able to interpret complex art concepts but for general audiences as well.
